Policy Advocacy Impact

The National Council secured nearly $40 Billion in government funding since 2014.

National Council's advocacy resulted in nearly $40 billion in government funding in the past 10 years. Through the creation of new, innovative programs that expand access to mental health and substance use care and the continued securing of funding to support organizations' growth and sustainability, National Council ensures that the needs of community behavioral health organizations are prioritized by lawmakers.

In the past four years alone, we've invested more than 55,000 hours in staff time and resources – engaging with policymakers and staff, providing regulatory comments, supporting coalition efforts and advocacy partners – to secure this funding for our members and the millions of people they serve.

REGULATORY CHANGES PRIORITIES

Key		Key Implementers
Now Next	Future Partner activities Lead Implementer	Regulators	States, Counties	Payers	Providers	Individuals and Families	Potential Risks
REGULATORY CHANGES
Recommendations	Sample Activities
Work with SAMHSA and CMS to minimize intake requirements that reduce access to care	Create parity of front door expectations for behavioral health with health care. Refine standard requirements for psychosocial assessment at intake to allow for more person centered approaches, symptom reduction and engagement.	√ +	√ +	√	✓	✓	States don't adopt changes Payers or providers maintain status quo for desire to have data. Training of providers to adopt practice to routine updates of service planning rather than periodic Too much time is taken in design and change to impact workforce (waivers or pilots could be a solution) Information regarding changes is not spread quickly
Work with CMS to remove requirement for separate service plan for BH and create parity in documentation	Remove separate service planning requirement for specialty behavioral health and allow for behavioral health to document a plan and next steps similarly to other health care settings (such as SOAP notes which results in more robust updates to the service plan at each session.	√ +	√ +	✓	✓	√ +
3. Work with accrediting organizations (CARF, Joint Commission) to adapt intake requirements	Parity of BH entrance to care is paramount in reducing administrative burden AND improving quality and experience of care. Initial intake aimed at symptom reduction versus history gathering can be a win for providers and patients.	√ +	√ +	✓	✓	√ +
